ABOUT US

Enactus is an international non profit organization providing a framework to students to empower the underprivileged by forming business models centered around them. Enactus Kirori Mal is operated by the students of Kirori Mal College, University of Delhi and strives to create a sustainable impact on the world through our projects Patradya, Dor and Janbhoomi.

PROJECT PATRADYA

Our objective is to eradicate the global issue of plastic waste, its usage and disposal by developing a suitable substitute in the form of Edible Bowls and Spoons. Simultaneously, we aim to uplift a community of Afghan Refugee women who lacked source of livelihood, in an alien environment, before our intervention
